Premier option: taught by SalsaCrazy (Evan). Evan, known across the Bay Area as SalsaCrazy, founded SalsaCrazy in 1995 and has spent 30+ years teaching complete beginners to dance. Choose the premier option and the founder runs your event personally. He takes very few private events, so availability is limited. He regularly teaches classes of 150 on his own and is at his best with big rooms.

How it works

1. Tell us headcount, date and format (form at dancesanfrancisco.com, or call/text 415-309-1284). 2. You get a quote the same business day. 3. A 50% deposit holds the date — we handle instructors, music, send a run-of-show a week before, assign a named backup for larger bookings, and arrive at least an hour early to set up sound. Your deposit is refundable until work on your event begins. No experience, partner or dance shoes required; partner rotation means everyone dances with everyone; the format works sober; participation is always optional.

Every budget is welcome. We love what we do. Tell us what you have in mind and your budget, and we'll work within it wherever we can. If we can't, we'll pass your request to a smaller company that can. Nonprofit rates are available when it's a good fit. Lead time: 1–2 weeks for small events, at least a month for larger ones. We're typically booked months in advance, so earlier is better.
